Season
2025/26

Semperoper Dresden

Dresden's Altstadt (Old Town) is home to cultural heritage of international renown. For centuries, the Semperoper, one of the world's most famous opera houses, has combined tradition with innovation. After its destruction in 1945, the building reopened exactly 40 years later, on 13 February 1985.

This is also the home of the Staatskapelle Dresden, one of the oldest orchestras in the world. Founded in 1548, it is steeped in tradition and has been shaped by illustrious conductors such as Heinrich Schütz, Carl Maria von Weber and Richard Wagner, who called the ensemble his "miraculous harp".

Operatic history has been written at the Semperoper: Richard Wagner premiered Rienzi, The Flying Dutchman and Tannhäuser here. There is also an imperishable link to Richard Strauss, nine of whose 15 operas were premiered at the Semperoper, including Salome, Der Rosenkavalier and Elektra.

Nora Schmid has been the Intendant of Saxon State Opera since the 2024/25 season. Daniele Gatti is Principal Conductor of the Staatskapelle Dresden and Kinsun Chan heads Semperoper Ballett. Together they are developing an artistic profile of this world-famous opera house that celebrates the unique mix of opera, ballet and concerts offered at this landmark building.

The Staatskapelle Dresden

One of the world's oldest orchestras, the Staatskapelle Dresden is truly steeped in tradition. Founded in 1548 by Moritz, Elector of Saxony, its history is inextricably linked with the city of Dresden, the royal Saxon court and its theatre. Until today, the venerable ensemble performs some 250 opera and ballets each season at its home in the Semperoper. In addition, it presents around 50 symphonic concerts, matinee events and chamber music evenings.

As a top symphony orchestra, the Staatskapelle appears at major international music venues several times each season. From 2013 to 2022, the ensemble was resident orchestra at the Salzburg Easter Festival. For this successful decade of work at the Salzach River, it was awarded the Herbert von Karajan Prize. In 2007, the Staatskapelle was the first – and until today the only – orchestra to receive the "European Cultural Foundation Prize for the Preservation of the World's Musical Heritage".

Since its foundation, many great conductors and renowned musical partners have shaped the history of this one-time court band. Its roster of former conductors includes Heinrich Schütz, Johann Adolf Hasse, Carl Maria von Weber and Richard Wagner, who called the orchestra his "miraculous harp". Richard Strauss was closely linked to the ensemble for more than sixty years. Nine of his operas were premiered in Dresden, including Salome, Elektra and Der Rosenkavalier, and his Alpine Symphony is dedicated to the Staatskapelle.

The Staatskapelle is highly active in the local region. It cooperates with the community music project "Musaik" in the Dresden district of Prohlis and in 2010 helped found the International Shostakovich Festival in Gohrisch, the world's first annual event dedicated to the music of Dmitri Shostakovich. The Staatskapelle also regularly reaches out to younger audiences in Dresden's Neustadt district with its project "Ohne Frack auf Tour" (On Tour without Tails).

Daniele Gatti

Principal Conductor of the Staatskapelle Dresden

Daniele Gatti has been Principal Conductor of the Staatskapelle Dresden since the 2024/2025 season. After studying in Milan, Gatti took up positions at the Accademia Nazionale di Santa Cecilia, London's Royal Opera House, the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and the Teatro Comunale di Bologna. He was subsequently Principal Conductor of the Orchestre National de France, at the Zurich Opera House and of the Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra in Amsterdam, as well as Music Director of the Teatro dell'Opera di Roma. In addition to his post in Dresden, Daniele Gatti is also Chief Conductor of the Teatro del Maggio Musicale Fiorentino, Music Director of the Orchestra Mozart and, since 2016, Artistic Advisor to the Mahler Chamber Orchestra.

He has conducted major new productions such as Parsifal, which opened the Bayreuth Festival in 2008, and four operas at the Salzburg Festival. He has also launched several seasons of the Teatro dell'Opera di Roma with works such as La damnation de Faust, Rigoletto and the world premiere of Battistelli's Julius Caesar. In 2023, he conducted Falstaff and all of Tchaikovsky's symphonies at the Maggio Musicale Fiorentino festival. In summer 2025, he will return to Bayreuth to conduct Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg.

Daniele Gatti is a three-time winner of the "Franco Abbiati" Prize as Best Conductor. In 2016 he was named Chevalier de la Légion d'Honneur by the French Republic for his work as Music Director of the Orchestre National de France. He also holds the Order of Merit of the Italian Republic.

For Sony Classical, he has recorded works by Debussy and Stravinsky; as part of the "RCO Live" series he has conducted recordings of Berlioz's Symphonie fantastique, several Mahler symphonies, a DVD of Stravinsky's Le sacre du printemps, Mahler symphonies and a DVD of Strauss's Salome. A DVD of Wagner's Tristan und Isolde was released in 2019. In his first season as Principal Conductor of the Staatskapelle Dresden, he spotlighted the music of Gustav Mahler and Robert Schumann. In the 2025/26 season, Daniele Gatti will conduct two operas at the Semperoper: Falstaff by Giuseppe Verdi and Parsifal by Richard Wagner. He will also continue the Gustav Mahler cycle with symphonies nos. 5, 6 and 7.

Ticket sales for the 2025/26 season

Start of ticket sales on 8 April 2025
From 10 am on April 2024: online at → semperoper.de or via our Visitor Service. Excluded from these general ticket sales are some non-subscription and third-party events, guest performances and Exclusive Events, for which special conditions of sale apply. From 8 April, a maximum of fifteen performances can be booked per person at the box office; any additional bookings should be made in writing.

Buy tickets online
→ semperoper.de

The quickest and most convenient way to get your tickets is to book them via our webshop at → semperoper.de. A 3D seating plan with a 360-degree view from the selected seat gives you an optimal impression of the viewing conditions – simply click on "360-degree view from the seat". You can pay by credit card or PayPal. If you decide to purchase an eTicket (free of charge), we will send you the ticket together with your booking confirmation by email. Simply print out the ticket or download it to your smartphone. Tickets sent by post are subject to a postage fee of 3 euros.

Booking tickets via the Visitor Service
Tickets, subscriptions and multi-ticket offers can be ordered for the entire 2025/26 season from 8th April. You can pay by bank transfer, credit card or in person at the box office. After payment, you will receive your tickets either as an eTicket (free of charge) or by post for a postage fee of 3 euros.

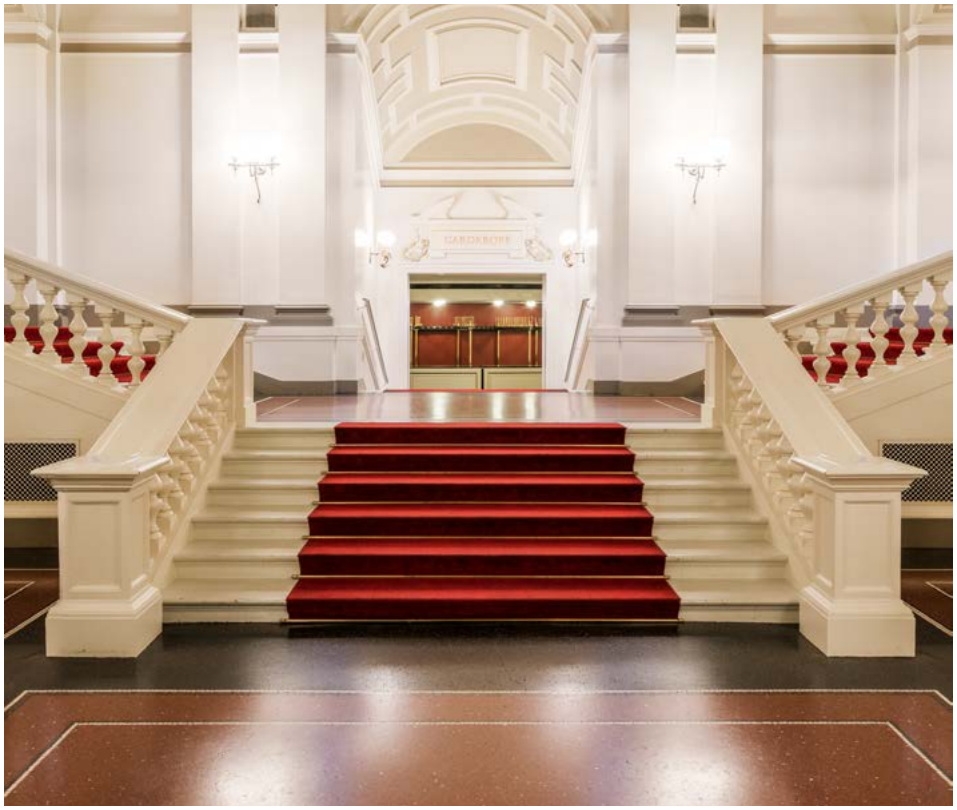
No ticket returns or exchanges
In general, purchased tickets cannot be returned or exchanged. To protect against unforeseen events, we recommend taking out ticket insurance (e.g. from ERGO-Reiseversicherung).

Resale on commission
We may accept some tickets for resale on commission from three months to two working days before the performance.

Prerequisite:
Less than 300 tickets are remaining and the returned tickets are for seating groups 1 to 6 or in the main box for performance at the Semperoper (does not apply to prices ZU1 to ZU8).

No guarantee can be given for the resale of a ticket.

Fee:
The fee per resold ticket is 10% of the ticket price (minimum of 6 euros per ticket).



Sales conditions 2025/26 for groups, companies and travel agents

The following sales conditions apply to groups, company visits and organised tours of 10 persons or more (excluding third-party events and guest performances). You can also find our Group Service at → semperoper.de/gruppenservice

Conditions for early bookings

A deposit of 10 percent of the ticket price must be paid on bookings made at least 5 months before the performance. The deposit is due no later than 4 months before the performance date.
You will receive the final invoice 3 months before the performance with a payment deadline of 4 weeks. The deposit of 10 percent of the ticket price is not an additional fee but will be deducted from the final invoice.

General conditions

Bookings made less than 5 months before a performance must be paid in full. Here payment must be made by the date indicated on the invoice (max. of 8 weeks after the booking).

It is not possible to extend the due date shown on the invoice. Please note that reserved tickets will automatically be released for sale after expiry of the payment deadline if no payment has yet been made.

Ticket returns

Tickets may be returned free of charge until the due date for your deposit payment and must be made in writing. For returns between the deposit and final payment dates, a cancellation fee of 2 euros is charged per cancelled ticket. This fee will be deducted from the deposit.

Ticket resale on commission

If tickets are resold on commission, you will be reimbursed the ticket price after the performance minus the 10 percent commission fee (at least 6 euros) in accordance with the existing commission regulations. Tickets must be returned (printed tickets or by email) to begin the commissioning process.

Special Services & Offers

Surtitles in German and English

Most operas at the Semperoper Dresden are performed in their original language. Most performances are surtitled in German and English (above-stage projection).
Please note that the view of the surtitles is restricted from the side seats due to the design of the opera house.

Gift vouchers

Give someone an unforgettable experience of an opera, ballet or concert at the Semperoper, one of the most beautiful opera houses in the world. Simply choose the amount you would like to gift; vouchers are valid for three years (not redeemable in cash) and can be used for almost all events at the Semperoper Dresden.

Book online at → semperoper.de or from our Visitor Service.

Vouchers can be sent either digitally or by post.

By post, gift vouchers are sent as a DPD parcel with delivery taking around one week. DPD transport conditions apply. A shipping fee of 3 euros is charged for gift vouchers delivered by post.

Discounts

Discounts for the disabled

Persons with an 80 percent disability can purchase a half-price ticket upon presentation of a valid pass.
The discount applies to admission prices from 12 euros in seating groups 1 to 6 and for prices ZU4 to ZU8.
If the proof of disability indicates an accompanying person, a second discount is granted.

Discounts are only valid in conjunction with proof of disability and are non-transferable. Proof must be presented at the entrance.

If no proof of disability is shown at entry, the discounted price must be reimbursed.

Special offers for young visitors

Discounts for kids
Half-price tickets are offered to children up to the age of 16.
The discount applies to admission prices from 12 euros in seating groups 1 to 6.
Please note that babies, infants and prams/pushchairs cannot be taken into the performance.

Discounts for young adults
Discounted tickets up to 50 percent cheaper than the normal price can be booked in advance for young people (up to 18 years) as well as students, trainees and those doing a year of voluntary service in seating categories ZU2 to ZU8.
Only available to those aged 30 and under.
A valid school or student ID must be presented on entry.

Guided tours
Experience the Semperoper

Anyone who thinks of Dresden thinks of the Semperoper. A guided tour through one of the world's most beautiful opera houses lets you enjoy the unique atmosphere of this historic building. Learn something of the impressive history of the opera house and marvel at the meticulous craftsmanship in every corner. The highlights of the tour are the beautiful auditorium and the opulent foyers with their brilliant decoration. Our experienced guides take you on a journey through 180 years of operatic history as well as giving you background information on our daily artistic work.

Which guided tours are available?
The popular "highlight tours" through the Semperoper take place most days in both German and English. Individual group tours are also available in many foreign languages. Take a themed tour to learn about the architecture or the history of music theatre in Dresden, or join one of our tours for children, school classes or families. Our very popular combi-guided tour lets you enjoy the impressive interiors of the Semperoper combined with a subsequent stroll through the Altstadt to see Dresden's famous sights, accompanied by an expert guide. And don't forget our short 30-minute tours before selected performances: get into the right mood for your musical experience in the Semperoper by strolling through the opulent foyers and vestibules.
